

Collin DePaemelere

Department of Economics
University of Wyoming
Laramie, WY 82071

Phone: (307) 247-4798
Email: mail@collindep.com
Website: <https://collindep.com/>

EDUCATION

University of Wyoming, Laramie, WY

Ph.D. candidate in Economics

Expected May 2027

Dissertation: “Essays on Money, Advice, and Health: Behavioral Evidence for Policy” (tentative)

Committee Chair: Linda Thunström

M.S. in Economics

2025

B.S. in Economics; B.S. in Finance; Minor in Statistics

2022

FIELDS

Primary: Behavioral Economics, Experimental Economics

Secondary: Health Economics, Applied Microeconomics

JOB MARKET PAPER

Spending Money Earned by Someone Else on Yourself

with Aaron Enriquez, Ben Gilbert, and Linda Thunström.

WORKING PAPERS AND WORKS IN PROGRESS

Can Advice Shift Social Norms? Evidence from Moral Decision-Making

with Johanna Möllerström and Linda Thunström.

Data collection complete; draft in preparation.

Adaptable Tool for Modeling the Benefits and Costs of Youth Smoking Prevention Programs with Madison Ashworth, Dave Johnson, and Stephen Newbold.

Status.

Social Norms and Risky Driving Behavior

with Sayanpaul Deep, Linda Thunström, and Klaas van't Veld.

Status.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Instructor of Record, University of Wyoming

- | | |
|---|-------------------------|
| – Intermediate Microeconomics (online, asynchronous) | Spring 2027 (scheduled) |
| – Principles of Microeconomics (ECON/AGEC 1020) — 39 students | Fall 2025 |
| – Principles of Macroeconomics (ECON/AGEC 1010) — 37 students | Fall 2024 |

Guest Lecturer, University of Wyoming

- | | |
|--|---------------|
| – Behavioral Economics (graduate) | February 2026 |
| – Behavioral Economics (undergraduate) | November 2025 |

Teaching Assistant, University of Wyoming (all courses for Prof. Linda Thunström)

- | | |
|--|----------------|
| – Intermediate Microeconomics | Fall 2022–2026 |
| – Behavioral Economics (undergraduate) | Fall 2022–2025 |

– Behavioral Economics (graduate) Spring 2025

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Assistant, The Teton Lab, University of Wyoming 2026–present
Subject pool management, session administration, repository maintenance.

Research Assistant to Prof. Linda Thunström, University of Wyoming 2022–present

PRESENTATIONS

– Economics Brown Bag Seminar, University of Wyoming November 2026 (scheduled)
– Economic Science Association, North American Meetings October 2024
– CSU–UW Research Seminar April 2024

GRANTS, HONORS, AND AWARDS

– Shelby Gerking Award, University of Wyoming ($4,000) 2024
– Summer Undergraduate Research (SURE) Award, University of Wyoming ($5,000) 2021
– Trustees Scholar Award, University of Wyoming 2018–2022

Research supported by College of Business Summer Research Grants, University of Wyoming (PI: L. Thunström), 2023–2024.

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES AND SERVICE

– Referee, Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization 2026
– Conference Organizer, UW-CSU Research Symposium 2024–2026
– Graduate Student Representative, Department of Economics 2023–2026
– Member, Economic Science Association 2024–present

SKILLS

Experimental software: oTree, Qualtrics
Programming and statistics: R, Python, Stata
Other: $\LaTeX$, Git, HTML/CSS

REFERENCES

Linda Thunström (Chair)
Professor of Economics
University of Wyoming
lthunstr@uwyo.edu

Todd Cherry
John S. Bugas Chair and Professor of Economics

University of Wyoming
tcherry@uwyo.edu

Madison Ashworth
Associate Director

University of Wyoming
mashwor1@uwyo.edu

David Finnoff
Professor of Economics, Director of Graduate Studies
Center for Business and Economic Analysis
finnoff@uwyo.edu